Welcome to China

"Welcome to China" is a short travel guide which is aimed at pupils taking part in exchange programs and helps them to prepare for encounters with their hosts. The book is divided into 30 chapters that describe standard everyday situations (e.g. "Arriving at your host family's home," "Small talk in the family," "In an internet cafe," "At a restaurant," "On the street" etc.) and list expressions appropriate to each context.

All expressions are supplied in Chinese, Pinyin and German. The book also provides typical questions and answers visitors will encounter in China so that if necessary a basic understanding can be established by pointing to the relevant phrases in their written form. An audio pen for the travel guide is also available that provides a spoken version of the written phrase indicated by the user.
