Lextra DVD interactive language courses

Lextra has taken the advantages of moving pictures one step further by incorporating the revolutionary new technology of interactive video DVD. At the flick of a remote control, learners can now check their comprehension, accuracy and language skills while watching the DVD by answering on-screen questions and performing language tasks.

Each of the five DVDs in this series focuses on a particular skill that business people need.

Set in international business contexts with an authentic storyline, the learner encounters not only native speakers of English but also real-life situations where English is used as a lingua franca. Clearly structured in five chapters each, the DVDs come with a 72-page booklet providing additional information on grammar and vocabulary as well as writing practice.
