

The graphic is a large blue shape resembling a stylized 'H' or a bracket. In the center, it says 'hat' and 'eine'. To the left, it branches into two paths: the top one leads to 'einen' and the bottom one to 'ein'. To the right, it branches into two paths: the top one leads to 'einen' and the bottom one to 'ein'. Each of these four paths contains a series of three horizontal bars, each with a small square at the end. Between these bars are colored dots: blue for the top 'einen' path, red for the middle 'eine' path, and green for the bottom 'ein' path. On the left side, there are two vertical paths leading to the names 'Timo' and 'Mia'. Timo is a boy with glasses, and Mia is a girl with a red hair clip. Various objects are placed in the bars: a blue backpack, an orange scarf, a red helmet, a pair of glasses, a blue bag, a water bottle, a white paper, a yellow rope, and a mobile phone.

Partnerarbeit: Mithilfe der Satzstraße Sätze bilden: Timo hat einen Rucksack.
 [Anbahnung des unbestimmten Artikels im Akkusativ]

 der Rucksack, der Schal, der Helm, der Rücksitz, die Tasche, das Handy; der Weg, die Satzstraße, die Partnerarbeit, darüber, darunter

► AH B, S. 6/7